WORKING TOGETHER

To Overcome Hiring Challenges for Area Employers & Job Seekers

More than half of HR managers surveyed by CareerBuilder said they currently have positions for which they can't find qualified candidates. If your company is challenged to fill open positions, we just might be able to help.

DO YOU CURRENTLY HAVE OPEN POSITIONS FOR WHICH YOU CAN'T FIND QUALIFIED CANDIDATES?

Meet the SSCE

The South Shore Collaborative for Employment partners with businesses seeking to enrich their organizations and the communities they serve through the recruitment, hiring and retention of a diverse and committed workforce.

Our Mission

The SSCE brings together the resources of more than 20 member organizations to effectively engage area businesses in developing competitive job opportunities and improve access to employment for job seekers throughout the region who might otherwise have barriers to employment.

100+ South Shore Companies
Are Working with SSCE Partner Agencies

This is only a sampling of the organizations that have discovered the benefits of working with SSCE partner agencies to fill open positions.

Here's Why...

"We made the commitment to have 20% of our workforce staffed with individuals with disabilities. We work with some wonderful organizations—The Arc, Road to Responsibility, Cardinal Cushing—we have some great partners. We opened a store in Manchester last year, and we had these individuals hired before that store opened - that's how important they are to our operation."
